“To travel with others for whom diving and/or underwater photography is valued and enjoyed, to make new friends, to share experiences when the diving day is over, to visit places that are difficult (or in some cases, impossible) on your own, to take better photographs, to learn more about the reefs and their inhabitants; these are just a few of the reasons why people really love to join our group trips.”

To travel with others for whom diving and/or underwater photography is valued and enjoyed, to make new friends, to share experiences when the diving day is over, to visit places that are difficult (or in some cases, impossible) on your own, to take better photographs, to learn more about the reefs and their inhabitants; these are just a few of the reasons why people really love to join our group trips.

This brochure features some ever-favourite Divequest group tours and also some innovative new trips, some with tricky logistics or other special arrangements that would be very difficult to achieve as an individual.

Divequest group adventures are for those who want to spend most of their time diving with other like minded people in the world's most wild and wonderful waters. For many people, sharing a common purpose with an interesting and pleasant mix of fellow travellers enhances a holiday. Experiences are shared and stories exchanged over dinner or in those relaxed moments between dives. For single divers, travelling in a group usually means the chance to find a room-mate (for those who prefer to avoid expensive single-occupancy supplements) or sharing a table at dinner, as well as having a buddy in the water. Even for couples or friends there can be no doubt that travelling in a group is simply a lot more fun!

Most of our small, friendly groups are suitable for certified divers of any level – indeed anyone with a spirit of adventure and the desire to dive! Our leaders are chosen for their skills in travel management as well as their diving, marine biology or underwater photography skills. They will be familiar with the tour location, the dive sites and the many varieties of marine life that you will encounter. Our leaders on photographic trips are accomplished underwater photographers and will be on hand to pass on their experience to you.

There's something for everyone. Choose an adventure and see for yourself!

ULTIMATE INDONESIA: RAJA AMPAT & THE LEMBEH STRAIT
The world's most spectacular reefs and best tropical critter diving with the guys who know where to find them, Alex Mustard and Graham Abbott. February/March 2009.

BAY ISLANDS DOLPHINS, REEFS & UNDERWATER PHOTOGRAPHY
Explore the Caribbean's great barrier reef with Sam Bean. May/June 2009.

THE BALI PHOTOQUEST
Reef and wreck image making with Martin and Sylvia Edge. May/June 2009.

THE ULTIMATE SHARKQUEST
Diving adventures in 'shark infested' waters around the Bahamas with Charles Hood. Lemon, Tiger, Caribbean Reef and Bull Sharks (with the possibility of dolphins too!) are the target for this unique liveaboard adventure. June 2009.

SEALIONS AND ‘BIG ANIMALS’ IN THE SEA OF CORTEZ
Hunting and shooting safari in the warm clear waters of Baja California, with Alex Mustard. October 2009.

THE RAJA AMPAT PHOTOQUEST
The world's richest coral reefs with Martin and Sylvia Edge. October 2009.

PAPUA NEW GUINEA: A QUEST FOR DIVERSITY
Seek out creatures large and small in Milne Bay and New Britain, with Alex Mustard. May 2010.

THE SULAWESI PHOTOQUEST: GANGGA, BANGKA & LEMBEH
Soft coral extravaganza and a bizarre wonderland of creatures, with Martin and Sylvia Edge. October 2010.

NOTE: MORE GROUP ADVENTURES FOR 2010 WILL BE INCLUDED IN OUR NEXT BROCHURE.
Divequest Group Dive Adventures 2009–2010

Divequesters exploring the Town Pier in Bonaire (Martin Edge)